Around the Town

Business is booming. Hope stores and cafes are crowded. Parking space has vanished, invoking a two-hour parking law, starting Monday. Speaking of cafes, I hear this about a couple of rival establishments: The proprietors of one cafe were talking to the owner of another. They said:

"This coffee trade is keeping us busy as a couple of cranberry merchants."

The proprietor of Cafe No. 2 thought a moment, then said: "Oh yeah . . . well, down at our place when a customer calls for a re-fill on coffee we tell him, 'No dice, brother—we need the cup!'"

High Winds Cause Damage to Buildings

Ice Company Roof Blown; Slight Damage to Crops Reported

High winds and heavy rainfall Friday night caused considerable damage to two buildings in Hope and slight damage to crops was reported from the farm sections.

Several large trees were uprooted in Hope and the roof of the Home Ice Company building was destroyed. The home of G. J. Downing was considerably damaged by the wind blowing the rain into the house, ruining wallpaper. No estimate was given as to the extent of the damage.

Corn seemed to have suffered heaviest in the rural areas and much cotton was also reported ruined. However, the damage is not believed to be very heavy.

According to the University of Arkansas Experiment Station's weather department 1.15 inches of rain fell during the night.

Farm-Purchase Chance Is Open

550 State Families Will Be Given Opportunity

Five hundred and fifty Arkansas farm families, who have been living as tenants and sharecroppers, will be given an opportunity to purchase family-size farms of their own during 1941-42, Hudson Wren, state director of the Farm Security Administration, announced Saturday.

T. B. Fatheree, assistant FSA regional director in charge of tenant purchase has notified Mr. Wren that an allocation of $2,407,055 has been made to Arkansas for the purchase of the farm units under the United States Department of Agriculture's farm purchase program, under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act.

Pointing out that the 1941-42 appropriation is $49,534 less than that of 1940-41, Mr. Wren said that, according to the 1940 census, farm tenancy in the state has been reduced in the past five years from 60 per cent to 53.3 per cent of the total rural population.

Since the beginning of the tenant purchase program in 1937, a total of 1399 farm families of Arkansas have been loaned money with which to purchase family-size farms, Mr. Wren said. During 1940-41, 586 loans amounting to $2,556,589, were made. The average farm purchased last year had 8.39 acres, and with the house and farm buildings, cost $4,362.62. The average unit consists of a home, barn poultry house and fencing, Mr. Wren explained.

Mr. Wren said that the tenant purchase loans are large enough to enable the borrower to buy a farm, and if necessary, to repair the buildings or erect new ones. The loans are repayable over a period of 40 years at 3 per cent interest.

Each borrower has a wide choice in selecting the farm he wishes to purchase; however, the tract must be family-size so that it may be operated by labor available in the family. Three member county committees, working with the FSA, decide which applicants shall receive loans, on a basis of character, ability and farming experience.

Preference is given those who either own or are able to make a down payment on livestock or farming equipment, and to persons who are married or have dependant families, Mr. Fatheree said.

Farmers Told Procedure on Getting a Tent

45 to 50 Tents Arriving Saturday for Proving Ground Families

Between 45 and 50 National Guard tents were scheduled to arrive in Hope on orders of Governor Homer M. Adkins between 4 and 5 o'clock this Saturday afternoon, and Rep. Talbot Field, Jr., member of the Arkansas House of Representatives Defense Committee, gave out a statement Saturday noon outlining the procedure under which Hempstead county families compelled to move out of the Southwestern Proving Ground reservation may obtain these tents.

The County Relocation Committee determined the procedure at a meeting in Mr. Field's office in First National Bank building just before noon. Confering with Mr. Field were the committee members: Chairman Oliver L. Adams, Les Graves, given permission to store the tents at the old Elks hall, city-owned property—and the tents will be delivered there by State Highway Department trucks late in the afternoon.

Procedure for a Proving Ground family to obtain a tent follows:

1. The head of the family must appear at Relocation Committee office (County Agent Adams at the courthouse), must indicate where the family wants to locate—say on the land of some friend—and must then sign an application blank which makes the family responsible for safe-keeping of the tent.
2. The Relocation Committee will then check on the proposed location of the tent, to make sure it has the landowner's approval.
3. The State Health Department will then inspect the premises for approval of sanitation.
4. The tent will then be released to the family. It is hoped to make arrangements for delivery of the tent to the desired location, but in any event the family may come and get the tent, if they desire.

$25,000 Fund Set Up
In a letter from Washington July 17, released in Hope Saturday, Congressman Owen Harris wrote:

"I have talked to General Somervell and he assures me that they will adjust this matter (property appraisals in the Southwestern Proving Ground reservation) as soon as they possibly can. It is not their intention to do any injustice to anybody and they will use their efforts in seeing that the appraisals are not too low and will make every effort possible to cooperate in this emergency and serious problem."

"Major Walker of the Farm Security has just called the regional office in Little Rock to discuss the situation with reference to the adjusting in the location of these families. He is having Hudson Wren of the regional office to send in men to assist in this problem. He is also allocating $25,000 set up for emergency in assisting those people in their serious problem."

Speed Limit Set During Maneuvers

During the 2nd Army maneuvers, which will begin August 6, the speed limit on Highway 67 in the maneuver area will be 35 miles per hour, the state police department announced here Saturday.

Further instruction, possibly concerning other highways as well as 67, will be announced later.

Just So Many Men to So Much Space

NEW YORK —(AP)—The police do not guess—they know almost exactly how many people there are in crowds. Chief Inspector Louis F. Costuma explained how his men get the figures. At Coney Island, they check subway turnstile meters and count cars in parking lots, figuring three persons to a car. In a parade, they know that men marching 12 abreast will pass a given point at the rate of 5,000 an hour.

As for the parade spectators, the police know the area of the sidewalks and curb back for block. Then they figure one person to every three square feet.

Yo-Ho and Another Compass!

MINEOLA, N. Y. —(AP)—A gang of "blitz pirates" is harrying yacht owners. They use a super-charged speedboat, cut the motors and glide along, snatching anchored yachts at night. Several men jump aboard, snatch chronometers, compasses and whatever they can remove quickly. Then they jump back to their own craft and roar away.

A. F. of L. to Permit Local Union Chapter

State Secretary Guarantees Jurisdiction Will Remain in Hope

H. M. Thackery, secretary of the Arkansas Federation of Labor, in a conference here late Friday authorized Royce Weisenberger of Hope to inform local carpenters that he had been advised that the A. F. of L. international office would permit Hope and Hempstead carpenters to organize their own local with an initial fee of $10 per man.

However, they must organize the local A. F. of L. chapter within 15 days after work on the Southwestern Proving Ground actually begins. During this period if the worker is found to be qualified he will be billed for the dues of $10. No actual cash will be involved until the worker proves his qualifications, Thackery told Weisenberger.

Local Jurisdiction
The local organization would guide itself with no jurisdiction from any other local union, Weisenberger was informed. Previously the Texarkana A. F. of L. Local offered to organize a Hope union at an initial fee of $50 per man, and was accused by Hope carpenters of trying to block the local group from getting a charter.

When the Proving Ground work is finished and the local carpenters wish to maintain the Hope chapter they may do so at the same $10 dues, it was said.

Preference to Local Men
Thackery indicated that he would see, and had information to back it up, that Hope and Hempstead men would be given preference on the job. As much had already been indicated by Senator Lloyd Spencer and officials of the Callahan Construction company.

It developed during the conference that the A. F. of L. headquarters would have a full-time union representative on the job here to work with the local union.

The A. F. of L. organization boasts a record of not having lost a single hour of work on any defense job in Arkansas, the only record of this kind in any of the 48 states, Mr. Thackery said.

State Office on Daylight Time

Employment Office to Open at 7, Close at 3, CST

The Hope office of the Arkansas Employment Service, Second and Walnut streets will go on Daylight Saving Time Monday, July 21, it was announced Saturday by Miss Wylie Wimberly, acting manager.

This is to synchronize the work of the employment office with the operations of the employment office of the Southwestern Proving Ground and the Callahan Construction company, the contractor, both of which organizations began work on Daylight Time last Monday.

Effective Monday, July 21, the employment office will open at 7 a. m. and close at 3 p. m., Hope Time.

Cemetery Sites Must Be Known

Information Is Wanted by Proving Ground Officials

H. B. Grace, Land Acquisition Project Manager, Southwestern Proving Ground, Hope, Arkansas, expressed his appreciation Saturday of the response on the part of the people living within the Proving Ground area in placing their deeds, contracts, mortgages, and other evidences of interest in said lands within the area on the records.

However, he calls attention to the fact that a number of cemeteries, churches, and schools seem to be difficult to locate because the deeds are still unrecorded. He particularly urges all persons interested in cemeteries, schools and churches within the area to call at his office at the courthouse and discuss the location and state of the title to any church, school, or cemetery in which they are interested. Mr. Grace is anxious to obtain accurate information as to the description and the parties in control of such tracts.

Hope Resident Dies Friday

Miss Elmina Fontaine Succumbs in Clarksville

Miss Elmina Fontaine, 80, resident of Hope since 1903, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. S. Kolb of Clarksville, Ark., late Friday afternoon after an extended illness.

She is survived by three other sisters, Mrs. Sally Metheny also of Clarksville and Mrs. George Sissel of De Queen and Mrs. Naomi Bullock of Chicago and a niece, Mrs. J. W. Patterson, of Hope.

Funeral services will be held in Clarksville at 3:30 Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Dan Smith of De Queen officiating. Burial will be in Hill Crest Cemetery in Clarksville.

Active pallbearers: Currie Allen and Benjamin Sissel of De Queen, Frank Trimble, Ched Hall, Tom McLarty and Robert Wilson all of Hope.

Honorary pallbearers: K. G. McRae, Sr., R. W. Muldrow, S. H. Bryant, George Green, Dorsey McRae, Sr., Dr. Charles Champlin, Smoky Calicut, Dolf Corrigan, I. L. Pickett, H. B. Vineyard, T. M. Taylor, C. C. Spriggins, Frank Ward, Carter Johnson, Paul Simms, Vincent Foster, James Pilkinton, Max Walker, Harvey Barr, Joe Coleman and R. M. Patterson.

Hope Group to Training School

Presbyterian Representatives Will Attend Meet

The First Presbyterian of Hope will be well represented at the 22nd Annual 10 day Leadership Training School to be held in Montreat, N. C., the largest of the 3 summer assembly places of the Southern Presbyterian church.

The school is attended each year by over 1,500 adults and young people and offers over 30 different courses covering the entire field of Religious Education and issues over 2,000 credits for completed curriculum units.

The delegation of 15 from the First Presbyterian Church of Hope consists of Mrs. Ched Hall, Mrs. Crit Stuart, Mrs. L. A. Foster, Rev. and Mrs. Thos. Brewster, Roslyn Hall, Caroline Trimble, Nancy Sue Robins, Nancy Faye Williams, Martha Greening White, Marilyn McRae, Marjorie Dill, Pauline Tullison, James Hannah Ward and Buddy Stuart.

This fine group is due largely to the splendid work of Mrs. Ched Hall, Secretary of Religious Education in the Presbyterian Auxiliary of the local church. The group will travel in 3 cars and expect to arrive in Montreat, which is 860 miles from Hope, about 5 o'clock Tuesday, July 22, in time for the opening of the school. This will undoubtedly be the largest group traveling such a distance from any church with an active membership of under 300.

New Front for Robison Store

Remodeling Work on Department Store Starts Monday

Installation of a new front of modern structural glass, including new display windows and the remodeling of the entire front exterior of the building, was announced Saturday by Geo. W. Robison & Co.

The remodeling will include the two front sections of the department store and the single front occupied by John P. Cox Drug company, all three being Robison property.

The present wooden awning on Second street running to Elm street will be torn down and replaced with a new roll-type cloth awning housed in an aluminum cover of the latest type.

Black structural glass will be built into the base, the sides and the top of the display windows, and around the gallery windows of the upper half-story. Across the top of the two sections of the department store the Robison store name will be sandblasted into the glass.

The two Robison store entrances will be remodeled, flaring out toward the street, and the floor will be tapered in a gradual slope to the sidewalk level, eliminating any step-up.

New hardwood floors will be installed in the show-windows. John Booth has the contract, and construction will start Monday, July 21, Mr. Robison announced.

Rumanian Oil Field Bombed

More Than 20,000 Tons Oil Reported Destroyed

ANKARA —(AP)—Big oil refineries in the Rumanian Ploesti oil fields and tanks containing more than 20,000 tons of oil have been destroyed by Russian bombers, unauthorized sources said Saturday.

This informant said the Russian planes were swooping low to unload explosives despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

An intense raid last Sunday started huge fires which covered the oil region with thick black smoke and scored damage on holdings of the Unirea company, a British owned firm which has been operated by the Germans and Rumanians since last February.

British sources said there still was large crude stocks of oil in the Ploesti region because of transport difficulties and the loss of a refinery would cripple delivery.

Mr., Mrs. Geo. Robison to Dallas on Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Robison will go to the Dallas and Fort Worth ready-to-wear markets this Sunday on a buying trip of several days' duration for the Robison department stores at Nashville and Hope. They will return to Hope about Friday.

The United States has 2555 airports, landing fields, and seaplane bases, including 946 municipal and 495 commercial airports.

Aluminum Pile at City Hall

Canvassing of Homes to Start Tuesday

Hope's Aluminum Collection Campaign, which will start Tuesday morning, will be featured by a huge pile of aluminum utensils on the city hall lawn after Boy and Girl Scouts have completed their canvass.

It was planned at first to have the exhibition pile placed on the post-office lawn, but there is greater room and less congestion on the city hall property, and the pile will be placed there.

Mayor Albert Graves announced Friday that the city will be canvassed by Boy and Girl Scouts Tuesday and Wednesday, and aluminum utensils donated by housewives will be gathered up by city trucks and employees.

Homes in Wards One and Four will be canvassed Tuesday, beginning at 9 o'clock; and Wards Three and Four will be canvassed Wednesday. Scouts participating in the canvass are asked to meet at the city hall at 9 a. m. each day.

The Aluminum Collection Campaign is sponsored by New York Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia's National Home Defense Council, the aluminum donated by citizens of America going to the aid of the warplane industry.

To Re-Route 4 Traffic Monday

Highway to Washington to Be Closed to Public

Re-routing of traffic on highway 4, Hope to Nashville, beginning next Monday, resulted in a conference here Thursday between W. W. Mitchell, director of the state highway department, and Kent Brown, chief engineer of the local division.

Traffic will be routed through old highway 67 toward Fulton and will come back to highway 4 north of Ozan, Mr. Brown said.

Director Mitchell and Engineer Brown were unable to contact the Proving Ground Commander to discuss plans for rerouting highways 29 and 4 around the Proving Ground area.

Farm Debt Meeting Held Here Friday

C. P. Boyd, farm debt adjustment fieldman for the Farm Security Administration, Little Rock, was here Thursday, July 18 to attend a regular meeting of the Hempstead County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee.

The meeting was held at the Farm Security Administration offices in the courthouse and was attended by the following members of the committee: E. M. Osborn, chairman, Eugene White and James Otis Johnson, Sr., E. J. Briggs, Assistant RR supervisor, Farm Security Administration and secretary of the committee, said routine adjustment details were discussed at the meeting. He reported that four cases were successfully adjusted and disposed of while the committee accepted two new cases for consideration, and settlement.

Armored Forces Now 230 Miles From Moscow

Russian Guerrilla Warfare Reported Giving Germans Much Trouble

By the Associated Press
Rounding out the fourth week of the great offensive against Russia the German high command reported Saturday the widening of the Smolensk breach in the Stalin line facing Moscow and perhaps significantly the Russians omitted the usual claim that they were holding ground.

The German armored might thrust to within 230 miles of the Russian capital for the southwest and as a part of the U. S. embassy left Moscow for Kazan in the Tartar Republic 450 miles to the east, came word from Istanbul that the Russians were holding 4 million men in reserve for defense of the city.

4 Million in Reserve
The source for the report was an Axis diplomat who was stationed in Moscow before the war began. This source said the fresh army of 4 million men was waiting behind Moscow ready to roll against the German forces in a carefully timed counter-offensive.

He made a point that the 4 million was separate from the Russian Far East army.

The Russian commander said the full fury of the blitz was concentrated in the Smolensk sector.

"There was stubborn fighting throughout the night," the report said, adding that on other parts of the front no significant change had occurred.

The Red air force also active through the night against motorized and mechanized troops, and German "air-dromes" were said to have shot down 32 German planes or a total of 71 in the last three days.

Reds Belittle Offensive
While the Red army minimized the German offensive in sectors away from the center of the long front the Germans claimed for its troops and Rumanian comrades a crossing of the Dniester river in several places in an advance from Soviet Bessarabia to the Ukraine.

"The Germans also claimed the 'breaking of embittered enemy resistance by Finnish and German forces which advanced to the north shore of Lake Ladoga in a flanking offensive north of Leningrad."

A Russian guerrilla detachment behind the German lines was said to have recaptured 2 identified only as "SH" and "X".

The Red Star, the Red army newspaper, said the guerrillas, originally 10 men, armed themselves by breaking up a German armored column, seizing 3 tanks, several cars, bicycles and considerable amount of munitions and then assailed the Germans holding the towns.

Izvestia, Moscow government newspaper, said the Russian defenders on the front resorted to individual entrenchment to turn automatic arms on German infantry finally resorting to the use of bayonet struggles.

The newspaper indicated the manner of fighting was designed to gain time for the mobilization of a vast army of civilians which Stalin has called into being to bolster the regular armies. This may be the 4 million man force which was indicated in the report from Istanbul.

First War Tanks
England's first tanks, making their appearance in 1916, carried eight machine guns, two six-pounders, and had a crew of one officer and seven men. The tanks had a speed of seven miles an hour.

Mrs. Finley Ward Is Again
Complimented at Luncheon
Mrs. Finley Ward was the inspiration of a perfectly appointed luncheon Saturday at 12:30 at the Barlow in the main dining room. Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Branch, Mrs. B. E. McMahon, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Mrs. Syd McMath, Mrs. Roy Allison, Mrs. George Newborn, and Mrs. J. P. Byers.

Garden flowers in a crystal bowl placed on a mirror reflector formed the central decoration and clever hand painted place cards marked the places of the guests. Mrs. Ward received a lovely gift.

Accompanying the occasion with the honoree and hostesses were Mrs. O. C. Sutton and Mrs. Kelley Bryant.

Al Fresco Party Is Event For Mrs. Mont's Girl Scout Troop Friday
A gay affair of Friday was the al fresco party for the members of Girl Scout Troop No. 5. The party was given by the leader of the troop, Mrs. Clyde Mont, at her country home on Broadway.

Supper was cooked on the side lawn by the girls, who later enjoyed several hours of exciting games. Mrs. Mont was assisted by her daughter, Miss Betty June Mont.

WE, THE WOMEN

Relax: You Can Keep Yourself Cool If You Don't Get Hot and Bothered

By RUTH MILETT
Relax. Summer is no season for nervous jitters. The woman who is full of nervous energy may not get on anyone's nerves in the winter—but she's sure to make everybody else uncomfortable in the summer time.

It isn't hard to give the appearance of being cool, calm, and collected even the most sweltering day if you will remember a few rules.
Don't hurry. It won't get you where you are going much faster, and when you get there you'll look like a wreck and probably feel like one, too. Allow yourself at least ten more minutes for getting dressed in the summer than you allow yourself in the winter, so that you won't look like an ice cream cone that's beginning to melt when you finally are ready to leave your house.

Let things go. Don't decide on the hottest day of the year—or the one that feels the hottest—that you simply have to take a pile of books up to the attic, or take down the curtains and launder them. Be a little bit lazy in the summer. It won't hurt anyone—and it will do you a lot of good.

Keep Temper and Sense of Humor

Don't scream at the children. Nothing will get you more riled up than that. Keep your temper and, if possible, your sense of humor, no matter how annoyed you are with your small fry.

Curb the restlessness that won't let you sit still for fifteen minutes at a time. It may seem all right to you for you to be jumping up and down every other minute emptying ash trays and straightening curtains and fluffing up pillows—but you'll drive your husband crazy if he's trying to relax.
Don't plan more socially than you can manage easily. Just see your friends informally in the summer and wait for cool weather to do your real entertaining. Taking a friend to lunch at an air-conditioned tea room or restaurant in the summer, if you can afford it, is an easy and pleasant way of entertaining.

If you find you're trying to go to too many club meetings, drop out for the summer months.

In short—relax.

Bumper Peach Crop Insures Winter Fruit

Freezer-Lockers Preserve Farm Foods Throughout the Year

Arkansas has a bumper crop of peaches in store and Hempstead county families can enjoy the fresh flavor of this luscious fruit all winter long by freezing and storing a supply in the freezer-locker, says Miss Mary Claude Fletcher county home demonstration agent.

The yellow, freestone varieties of peaches, according to Miss Mary E. Loughhead of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, have been found to retain a good texture and flavor when frozen.

For families planning to store peaches in freezer-lockers, Miss Loughhead points out that since it is the original fresh peach flavor which is sought, peaches which are sound, full flavored and fully ripened are in the best stage for eating fresh should be selected for freezing. The sooner they are placed in the freezer-locker after harvesting, the better. For the best quality, peaches should be tree-ripened and placed in the locker the same day they are harvested.

To aid families in preparing peaches for storage in freezer-lockers, the Extension specialist in foods and nutrition suggests the following directions:

Wash the peaches and scald in hot water for 30 seconds, or until the skins slip, then plunge into cold water to cool immediately, drop them into cold water which contains a small amount of lemon juice.

One of the problems in freezing peaches is to prevent discoloration. If they cannot be packed in the sirup or sugar immediately, drop them into cold water which contains a small amount of lemon juice.

Leave the peaches in whole halves or slices them, pack into the containers in which they are to be frozen and cover with a thin, cold sirup, made by dissolving one cup of sugar in 1 1/2 cups of water. Sliced peaches may be packed with dry sugar instead of sirup. To 5 cups of the sliced peaches, add one cup of sugar and mix gently until the sugar dissolves, then pack in containers. Leave one-half inch head space in containers for freezer-locker storage. Seal the containers and take to the locker promptly.

Clubs

Hickory Shade
The Hickory Shade Home Demonstration club met Tuesday, June 10, at the home of Una Stophs with Mrs. Fred Wilson associate hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. John Allen. The hostess gave the devotional. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Each member answered the roll call by telling what breed and size flock of poultry they have. The Red Cross garments were turned in at this time.

Mrs. W. L. Mouser, the poultry leader, had charge of the program. We were glad to have Miss Mary Claude Fletcher with us. She gave some interesting hints on comfort making.

Seven of the club members attended the county council meeting at Columbus, June 18. We are very proud of having won a red ribbon on our fruit and vegetable display, also, Mrs. W. L. Mouser made an "A" rating on her white suit and Mildred Robinson made "C" on her sport dress. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joe Ross, July 8.

Oak Grove
The Oak Grove Club met at the home of Mrs. Marion Sparks for their June meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. After group singing, the club answered the roll call by telling the number and breed of poultry they have. The devotional was given by the hostess. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Old and new business was discussed. The Red Cross garments were turned in.

Our program for this month was on poultry. Miss Lois Purdie, our poultry leader, gave some very interesting facts on poultry feeding and handling eggs in the summer. Plans were made for a demonstration on comfort making. The date for July 1. Delicious refreshments were served. The date for July 1: shrldushrdldull club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Leslie, Purdie in July.

DeAnn
The DeAnn Home Demonstration club met at the school house Thursday, June 28. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Roy Burke. The Lord's prayer was repeated by all, followed by an Edgar A. Guest poem by Mrs. Roy Burke.

Mrs. Richard Arnold read the minutes and asked that roll call be answered, correcting every one's mailing address. There were thirteen members and one visitor present. The song "America" was sung.

Miss Frances Hartfield asked that all comfort makers meet the next Monday for a demonstration and materials.

HOPE STAR

German Threat to Joe Stalin

Interest Focuses on Romanov Pretender

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
By Cable to AP Feature Service
BERLIN — An unassuming airplane mechanic of 23, known in northern England as Mister Michaelov and popular as a graceful dancer, some day may emerge as successor to the murdered Czar, Nicholas II of Russia.

Mister Michaelov is none other than stumpy, broad-shouldered Grand Duke Vladimir Kirillovich of the House of Romanov.

Now, more than ever, he is pretender to the imperial Russian throne. In his modest chateau in St. Brice on the German-occupied French coast of Brittany, he watches Germany's fight against Stalin closely and fervently, with deep emotion but without illusions.

The grand duke knows that Germany, at least for the present, is not interested in monarchical restoration. He knows also that those devoted Russians who for the past quarter of a century have kept the monarchical idea alive in the hearts of their countrymen are mostly well past middle age, and that many of the high-titled are penniless taxi drivers, movie supers, restaurant waiters and hotel porters.

Yet Vladimir never leaves doubts in anybody's mind that he regards himself as legally entitled to rule Russia, and that by terms of his late father's will he must keep the Romanov standard flying, come what may.

Extremely cautious in such few public appearances as he has made — he realizes the delicacy of his situation as an emigre-Vladimir nevertheless always accepts acclamations by Russian monarchists when they hail him as the Russian empire's next chief of state.

Born in Exile
In brief, terse words he calls upon God to restore his fatherland to its traditional form of government. In so doing he apostrophizes a fatherland he never saw, for he was born in exile at Halko, near Barga, Finland, on Aug. 17, 1917, and lived most of his life in France, Germany and England.

Like his brother-in-law, Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia, who worked in the Ford factory at Detroit, Vladimir knows an industrial worker's life. During the year before the outbreak of the present war he worked as a mechanic in a factory in northern England.

What pictures of sailing vessels are to President Roosevelt, drawings of motors are to Grand Duke Vladimir. His little study at St. Brice has many pictures of motor toys.

Uses Father's Incognito
Vladimir, as do most educated high born Russians, speaks English, German and French with the same facility as the native Russian which his parents and a devoted nurse taught him from babyhood.

While working in the airplane factory he assumed the Russian name of Michaelov which was used by his father as an incognito in days before the World War.

His wavy brown hair, combed back, gives a touch of the artistic to his face, which as in the case of many other Romanovs is mobile and expressive. His voice is rich and sonorous, his eyes a grayish-blue.

Fond of outdoor sports, he not only motors but swims, sails, plays tennis and golf. Graceful dancer that he is, and passionately fond of jazz music, he has society belles craning their necks after him.

Most of his education—in the winter on the Riviera and in summer partly at St. Brice and partly at Coburg, Germany—was by private Russian, French, English and German tutors, but his bachelor's degree was awarded him by the Russian University of Paris after he passed prescribed examinations.

In Favor With Royalty
Before becoming an airplane mechanic, the young grand duke attended London University, where he studied economics and political science. King George and other members of the English royal family took an active interest in his welfare, as did the pressed the importance of the Defense program.

Sweet Home
The Sweet Home Demonstration Club met Friday, June 6, at Mrs. Clifford Huskey's home. There were 35 present. The meeting was called to order by the president. The song "God Bless America" was sung. The devotional was read by Mrs. Jimmie Head, and everyone repeated the Lord's prayer. The minutes were read by the secretary. The roll was called, each member answering with what breed and size flock of poultry they had. A report was given on County Council. There were five attendants from Sweet Home. The comfort program was discussed. For the first time during the year, refreshments were served. Then several games were played and a stork shower was given. The next club meeting will be at the church.

Rocky Mound
The Rocky Mound Home Demonstration Club met Monday, June 23, at the Harmony school house. The meeting was called to order by the President at 3:00 p. m. The roll was called and each member answered by telling what breed and size flock of poultry she had.

Summer poultry feeding was discussed. Most of the members reported that they fed their flock on chops. Handling the eggs was also discussed. Some good ways of keeping the eggs fresh is by placing them in the salt where water, meat stayed or in boiled rain water.

Visiting day at the Experiment Station was discussed and all said they would take some vegetables if they had a way to go. The meeting adjourned to meet at the school house on Monday, July 28.

How Russia May Get Aid She Asks

Russia, now seeking war aid from the U. S., will have trouble getting it in because of near-complete cutoff of her western outlets by German forces. Map shows alternate routes that may be used to bring supplies to Soviet Russia's fighting front.

WPA Dollars Now Rolling for Defense

WASHINGTON — WPA will be folding up its portable telephone booths and going completely out of business in some 500 of the 3097 counties and independent municipalities of the United States and its territories, starting immediately.

Whether this marks the beginning or the end of the era of relief is a question, but it goes without saying that the exodus will be accompanied by loud wails from the vicinity of the 500 counties affected. There just isn't any alternative, however. Congress has sliced WPA appropriations from the $1350 million it enjoyed during the past 12 months to a mere $875 million for the next 12 months. That's a 35 per cent cut in money. It will be met by a 40 per cent cut in WPA rolls, reducing the number from an average of 1,704,000 for the past year to a neat 1,000,000 for the next.

There is always the possibility that if the shouting and the tumult beat too much of a Gene Krupa on the Washington cadrum that congressmen will weaken, along about frost time, and pass a miracle deficiency appropriation which will put the unemployed back on the public pay roll. As of now, however, there is a sincere effort to get the WPA rolls down to a million men and women.

Sewers, Sidewalks Doomed
In making reductions, preference will be given to defense projects. If, in any given county, there are projects to build an airport and a school, the chances are that the airport will be built and the school will wait. Non-military sewers, roads and sidewalks which are halfway done will be completed where possible, but do not be surprised if some of them are stopped right at the next corner and left for the communities to finish.

Efforts will be made to cut out WPA projects in areas where employment is rising, due to the defense effort. In Connecticut, for instance, unemployment has gone down 75 per cent in the past year, because defense industries have been putting men back to work at such a tremendous rate. In Arkansas, on the other hand, unemployment is down only 18 per cent. Everything else being equal, the tendency will be to drop many projects in Connecticut and take care of the still relatively high unemployment in Arkansas.

These methods of cutting have to be balanced against the number of defense projects WPA has on its docket. In Florida and Maine, 80 per cent of WPA projects are in the defense categories. That gives the priority, and the 20 per cent of non-defense projects will see the ax, or at least the razor. In western states, the percentage of defense projects is lower.

There will be some transferring of workers from non-defense projects to defense projects, naturally. In this connection, WPA will do considerable expanding in its vocational training program. Regulations now permit WPA to put its men in industrial plants to get the training for specific jobs. WPA pays their wages while they're learning, and the effort will be made to push WPA eligibles thru these courses and get them onto private payrolls.

Keeps Culture Flowing
The so-called cultural WPA program will be kept to the extent possible. About 27 per cent of the people on WPA have been on community service work and on art, writing and music projects. At least a fourth of these will have to go, but WPA headquarters, figuring that its art and writing for white-collar workers to get a job that is for pick and shovel men, will cling to what it considers the more worthwhile artistic endeavors.

Any discussion of WPA brings up consideration of how many unemployed there actually are, and how many of them need relief. Unemployment estimates now vary from the National Industrial Conference Board's six million to the C. I. O. guess of nine million. Bureau of Labor Statistics, which thinks it knows everything else, refuses even to reach in the hat for a figure.

Whatever the unemployment score, none of the statistical seers believes that employment for 1941 or 1942 will reach the 50 million peak of September, 1929. Remember?

There are seven million more workers now than there were in 1929 and increasing industrial efficiency, though it has raised the Federal Reserve Board's index clear up to 143, has not been able to find jobs for seven million more workers. As of May 1, there were 413,000 unemployed workers certified for WPA jobs for which there was no money to pay them, and a total of 1,264,000 eligible for WPA relief of any kind which they also couldn't get.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authorities.

1. Is it necessary for a girl to give her fiancé an engagement present if he gives her one?

2. Is it customary for parents of the girl to send out engraved announcements of her engagement?

3. Is it usually a wise plan for the young man to consult his fiancée about the type of setting she would like for her engagement ring?

4. Must every wedding gift be acknowledged by the bride in writing even if she has an opportunity to express her thanks when talking to the sender?

5. Is it polite to ask a girl whose engagement has never been announced and who is not wearing an engagement ring if she is engaged to the young man she is dating exclusively?
